Rheydt Hill Golf Course

EASY Wooded Mountains

A fairly easy, wooded course with a backdrop of mountains. Wow the crowds with a birdie blitz.

The beautiful cherry, zelkova and pine trees that line this course sometimes make planning your approach quite tricky. To succeed, you will have to think at least one shot ahead whilst taking each shot. Using fade or draw shots to avoid landing in trouble is a necessity of play on this course, but should you require a one shot comeback then you can prove your bravery with a bold shot through the trees.

West Coast Golf Course

NORMAL Coastal

The stage is set for golf by the coast. Tricky, slender fairways wait to challenge you. Whatever the scenery, you won't be getting a vacation here! Landing in the ocean counts as out of bounds, and the sea breeze will affect the ball while it is in flight. Whilst you should pay the utmost attention to the hazards of the sea and the wind, you can also aim for a super shot by landing on the small islands out at sea.

Mountain Stone Golf Course

HARD Untamed Wilds

A parched, barren course, and famous for its punishing difficulty. The person who can conquer this course has the power to conquer the world.

Firstly, clearing the proud mountain ranges gracing this course is only possible using a loft shot. Secondly, there is only one mountainside that actually has a fairway and a hole... and to top everything off, you face sheer drops and veritable mountains of rough. Only true professionals can even brave an attempt on this monster. As a basic strategy you may want to just try to avoid all these pitfalls, but should you have the courage to try instead to turn them to your own advantage, then there is undoubtedly the opportunity for some impressive super shots.

You can play alone against a computer player, or with a friend. Sometimes you'll find you need to try something other than normal Stroke Play!

Stroke Play – 1 to 4 Players

Choose a course, and then play for strokes over a full round. The winner is the player with the lowest number of total strokes after the full eighteen holes.

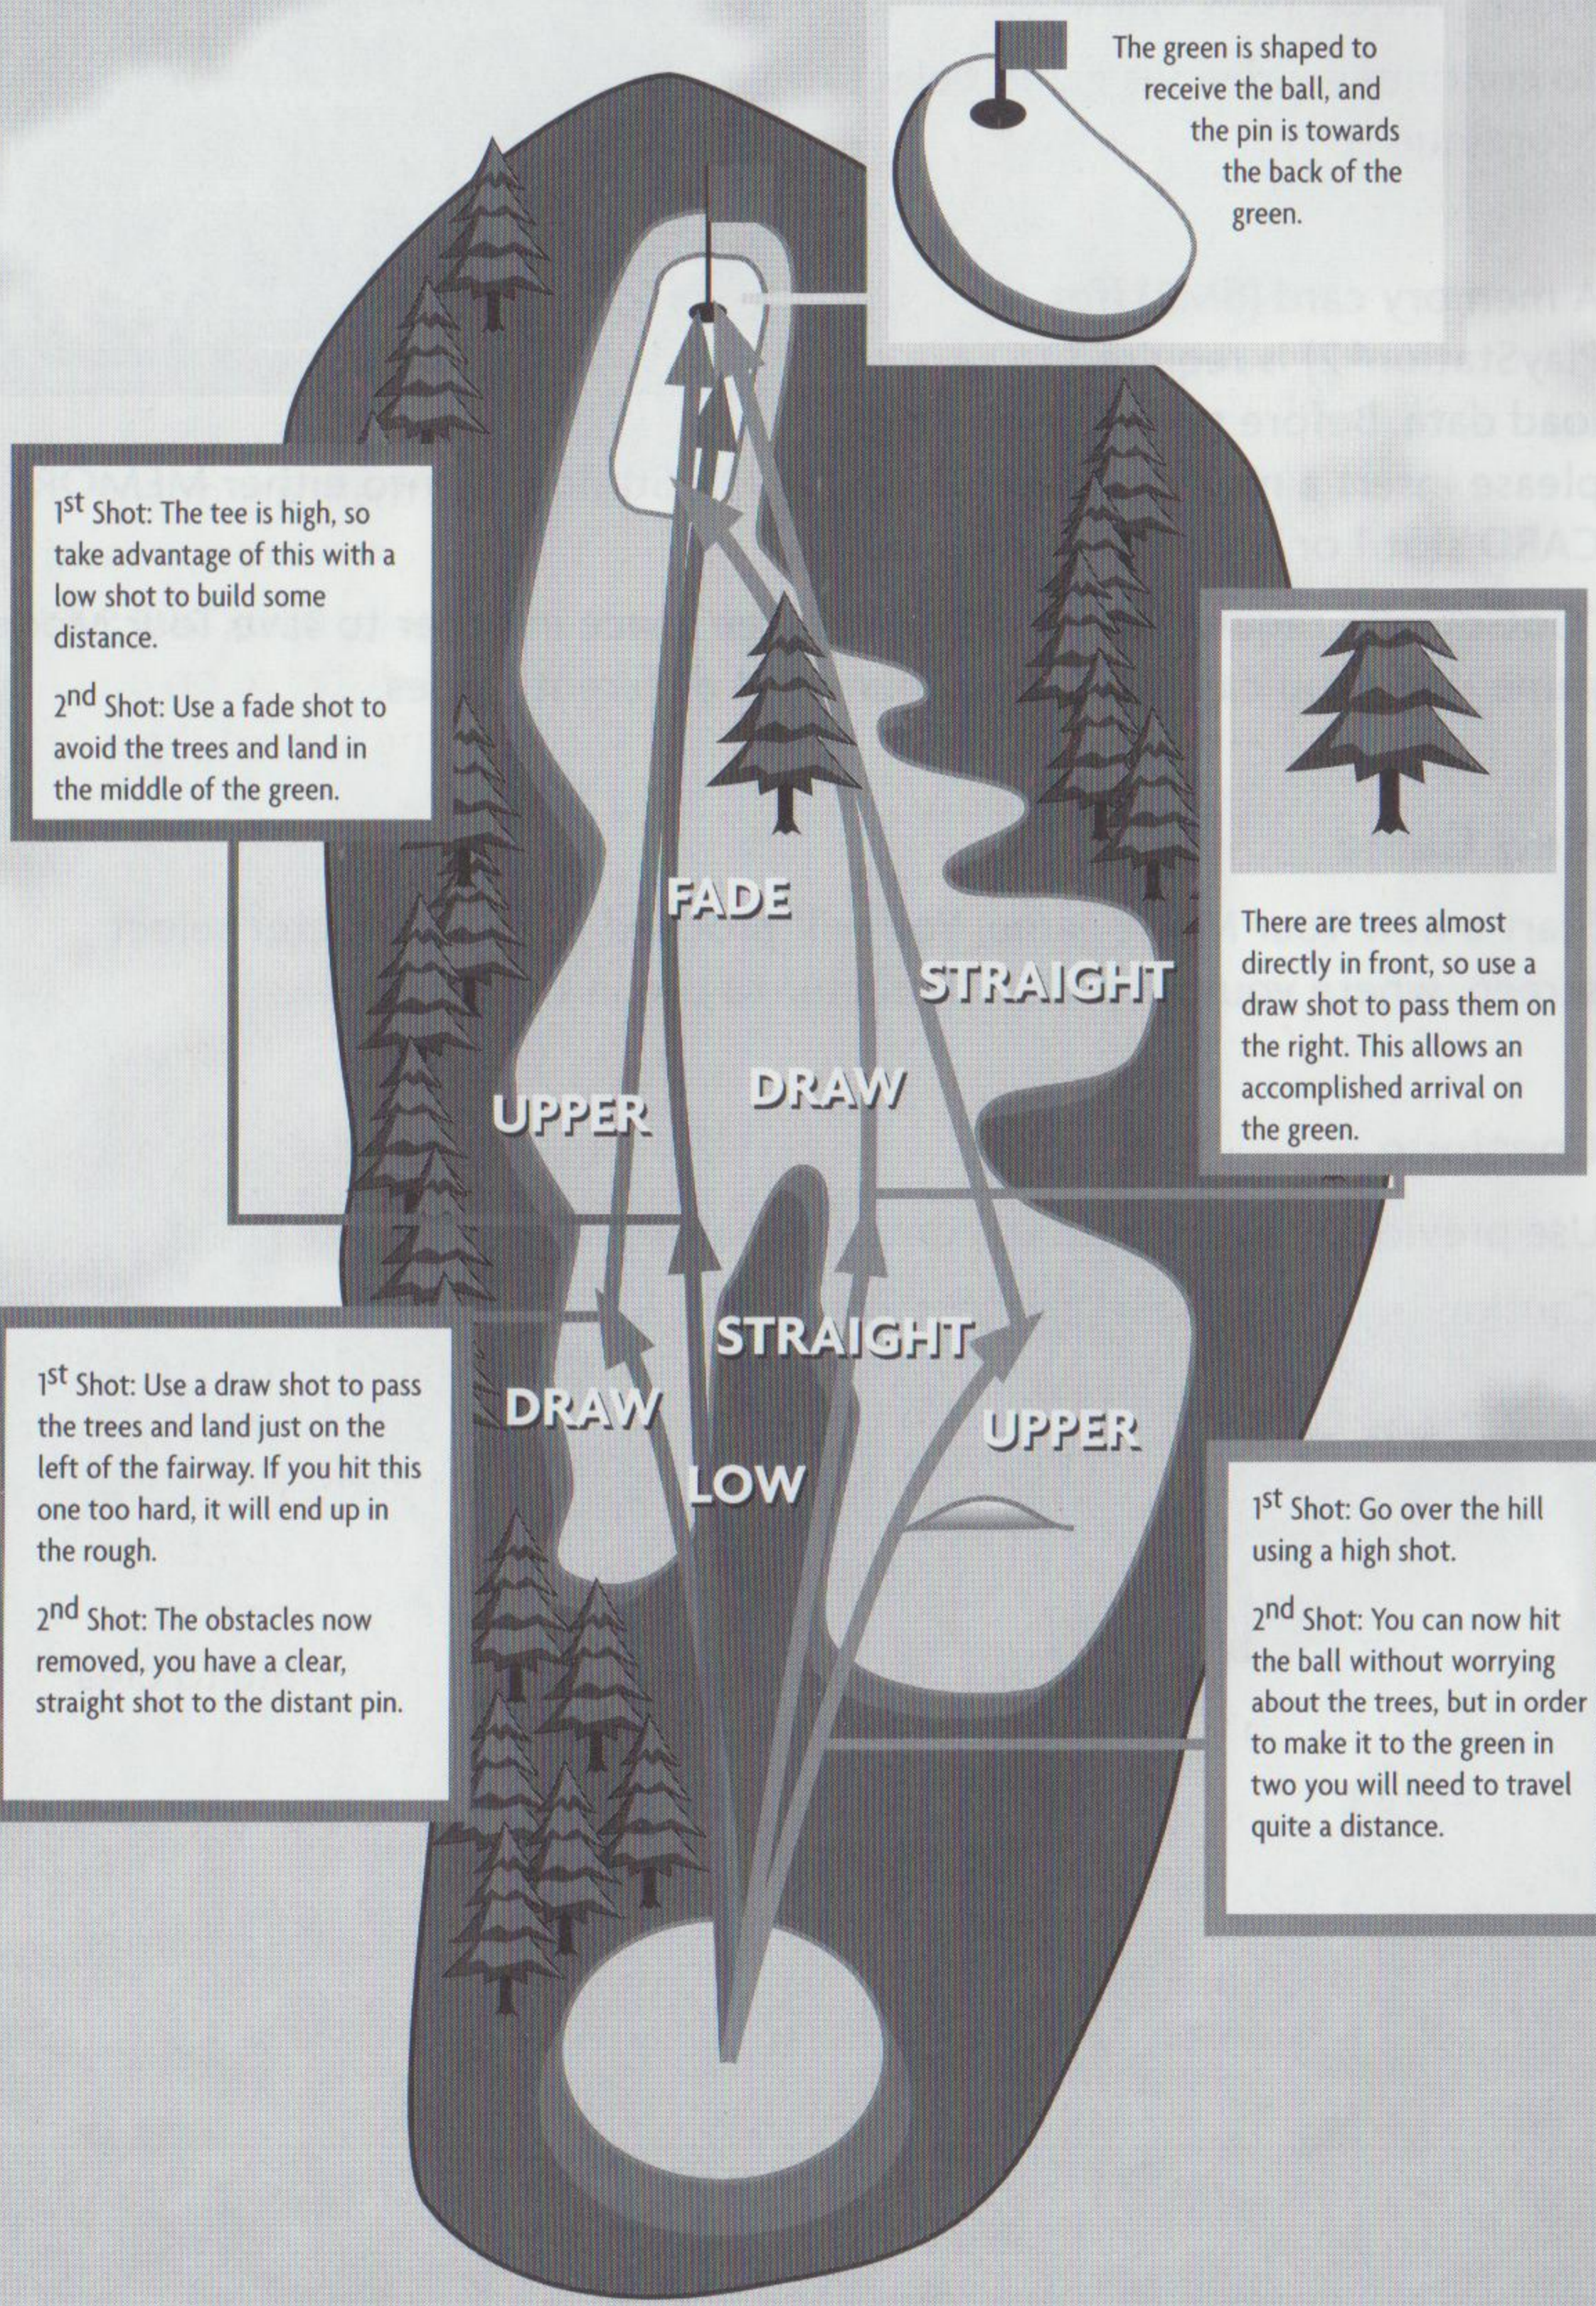
Strategy = Victory!

Let's take Course 1, hole 6 as an example.



The green is shaped to receive the ball, and the pin is towards the back of the green.

1st Shot: The tee is high, so take advantage of this with a low shot to build some distance.

2nd Shot: Use a fade shot to avoid the trees and land in the middle of the green.

There are trees almost directly in front, so use a draw shot to pass them on the right. This allows an accomplished arrival on the green.

1st Shot: Use a draw shot to pass the trees and land just on the left of the fairway. If you hit this one too hard, it will end up in the rough.

2nd Shot: The obstacles now removed, you have a clear, straight shot to the distant pin.

1st Shot: Go over the hill using a high shot.

2nd Shot: You can now hit the ball without worrying about the trees, but in order to make it to the green in two you will need to travel quite a distance.

CASE 1: Arashi

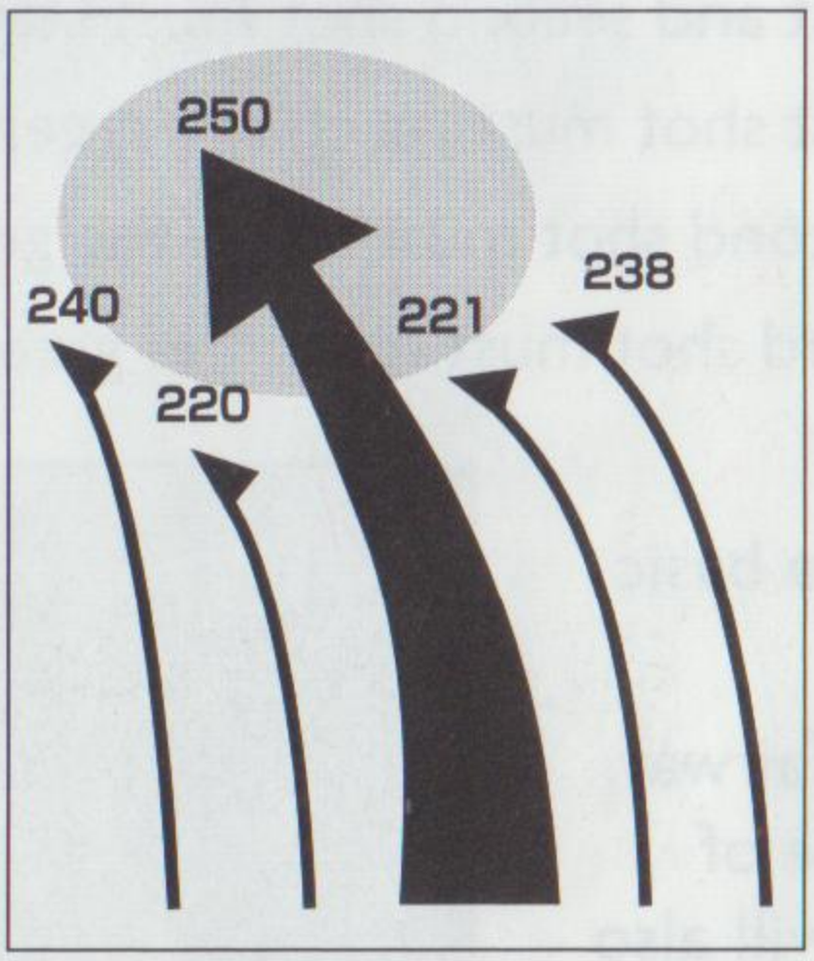
LAYLA (1W)



Favoured Shot:

+

Favourite Club:
LAYLA (1W)

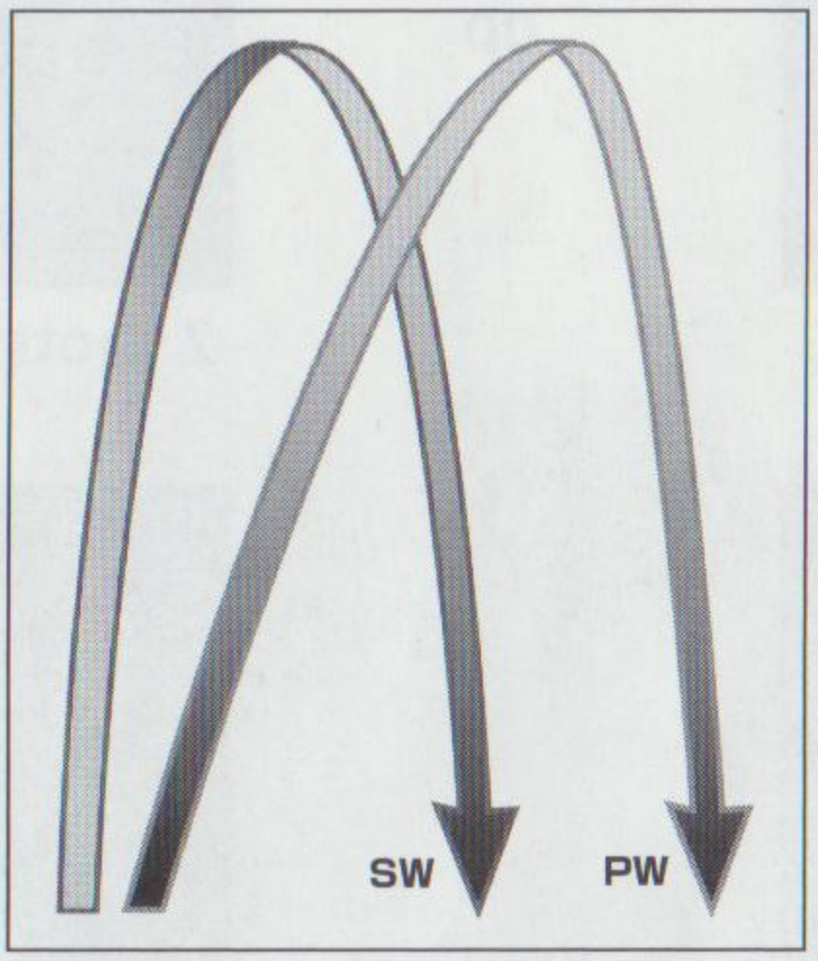
⬇

More than any of the other characters, Arashi can really bring out some major distance on an opening, with a draw off the tee.

CASE 2: Lily

Favoured Shot:
Straight

Favourite Club:
Maple (SW, PW)



The SW and PW specialise in hitting balls on a high trajectory, so if faced with some obstacles a combination with an upper shot should be able to clear them.

Build up your character!

In order to improve a shot –

For a Par 4, the first shot must stay on the fairway.

For a Par 5, the first and second shot must stay on the fairway.

For a Par 3, the first shot must reach the green.

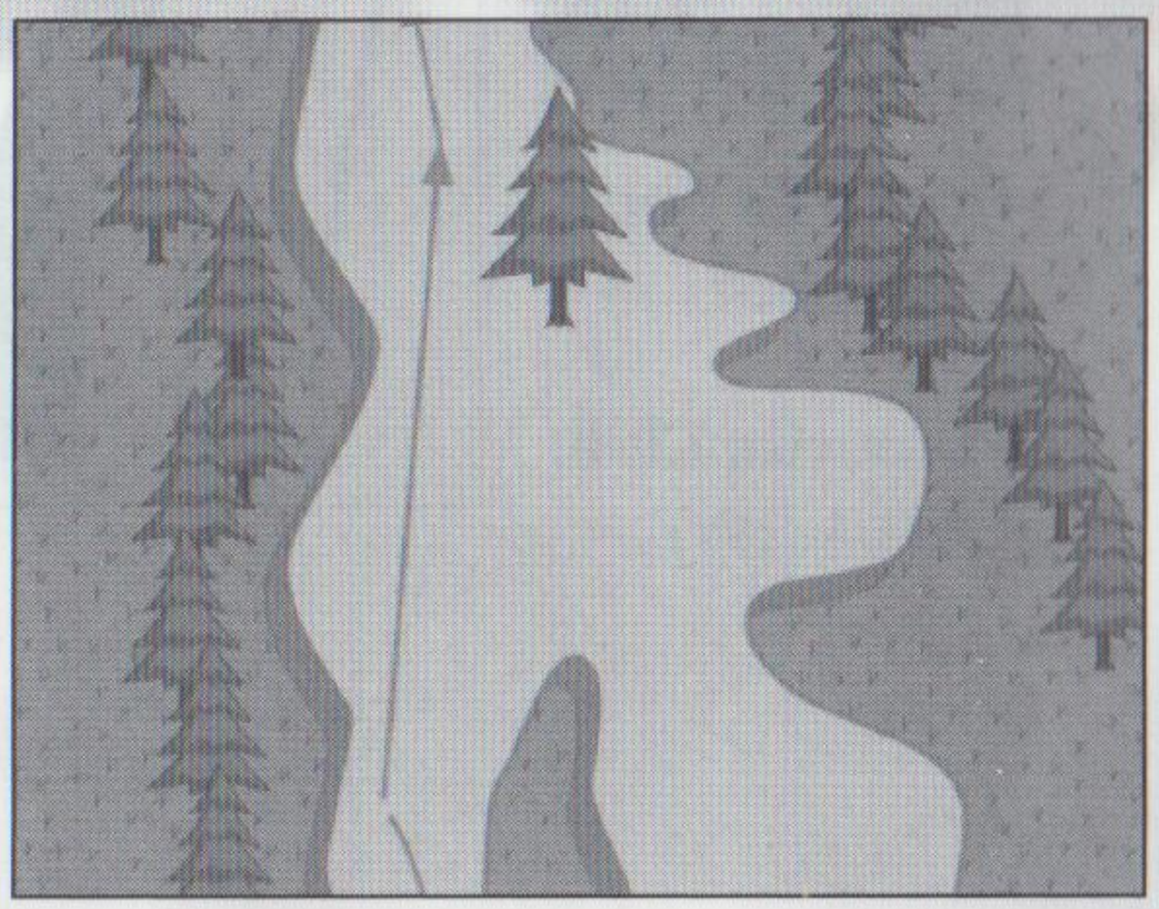
For a Par 4, the second shot must reach the green.

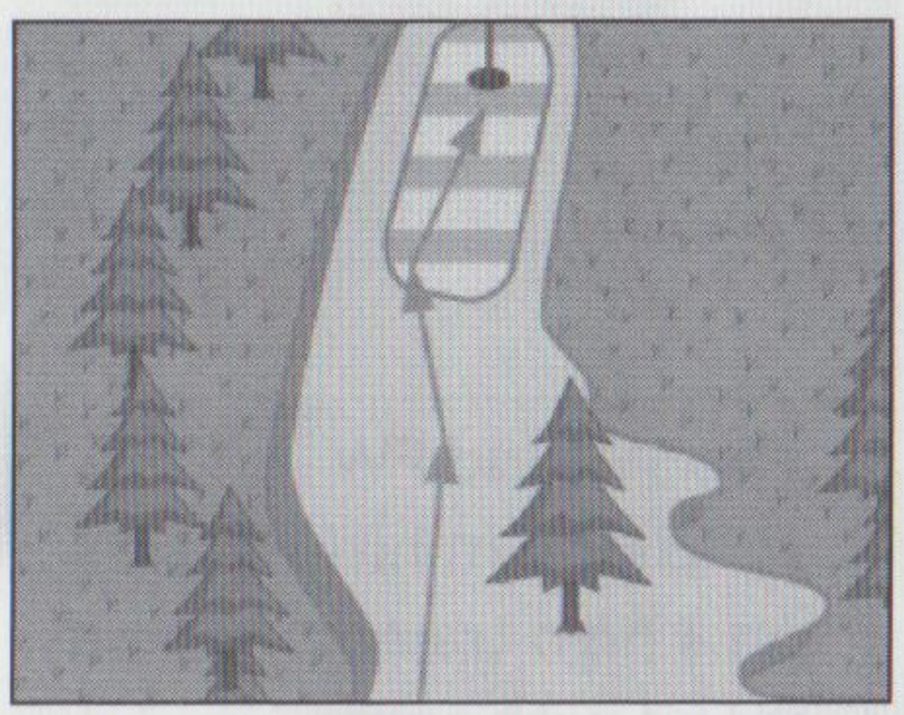
For a Par 5, the third shot must reach the green.

Remaining on the fairway is a basic must.

As long as you keep on the fairway, you have an excellent chance of making par, and your shots will also improve.

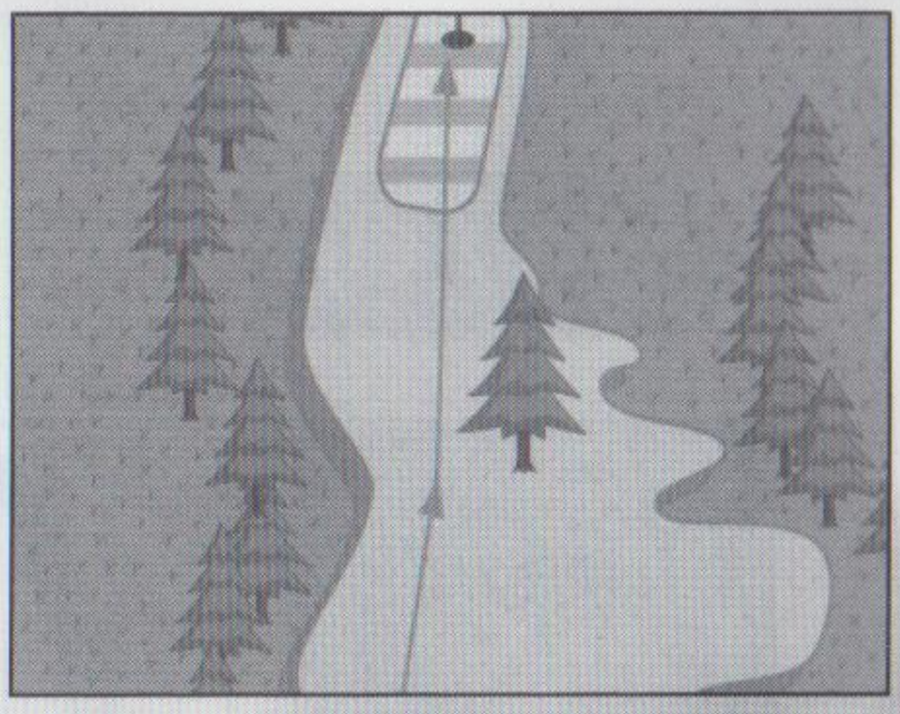
Knowing what to build up is vital



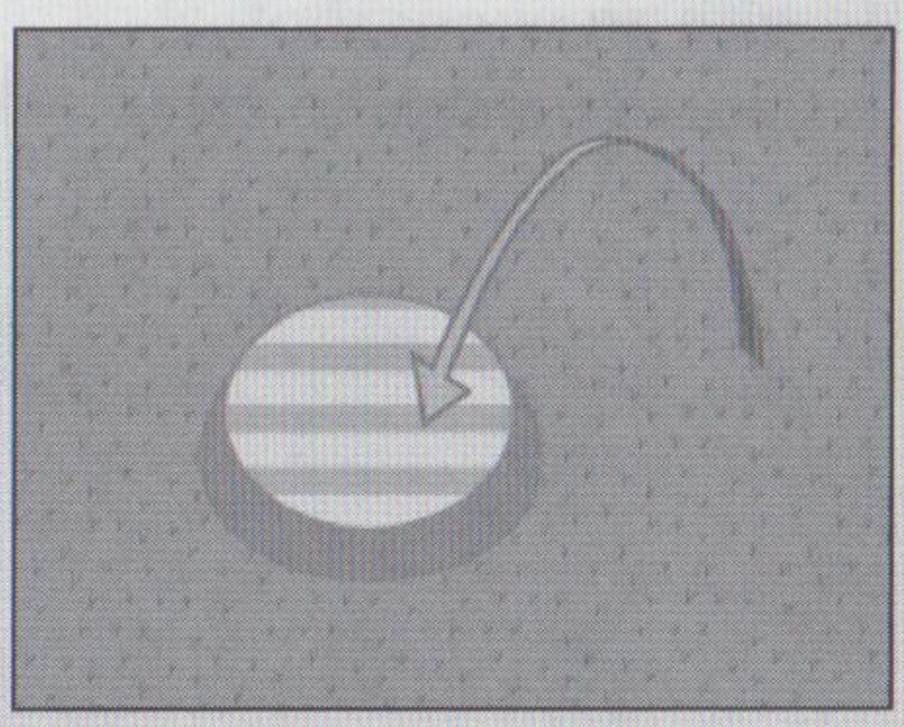


3 shots to get on the green

After building up



2 shots to get on the green



A high shot works well for a mound style green.

To avoid obstacles, use a draw or fade shot.

Aim for the Super Shot!

Rather than just avoid obstacles such as trees and rocks, you can bounce and rebound off them, actually turning them to your advantage in various ways. See what you can do!
